TORONTO v. THE KING.

Ontario Supreme Court, Appellate Division, Latchford, C.J., Riddell, Masten, Orde and Fisher, JJ.A. March 28, 1930.

Constitutional Law I B—Disposition of fine—Royalty—Ultra vires.

A fine for an offence which was an offence at Common Law, e.g., conspiracy to defraud, is a royalty, and being a royalty, to which the Province of Upper Canada was entitled at Confederation legislation of the Dominion (s. 1036, Cr. Code) purporting to deprive the Province of Ontario thereof, is contrary to s. 109 of the B.N.A. Act and ultra vires of the Dominion.

APPEAL by the Crown from the judgment of Rose, J., [1929] 4 D.L.R. 832, 52 Can. C.C. 59, 64 O.L.R. 129, in favor of the plaintiff. Reversed.

E. Bayly, K.C., and W. B. Common, for the Crown.

G. R. Geary, K.C., and J. Johnston, for respondents.

LATCHFORD, C.J. (dissenting):—This appeal is from the judgment of Rose, J., [1929] 4 D.L.R. 832, 52 Can. C.C. 59, 64 O.L.R. 129, rendered on April 23, 1929.

The facts are fully stated in the report of the judgment and need not be repeated.

Were it not for the decision of the Judicial Committee in The King v. A.-G. B.C., [1923] 4 D.L.R. 690, affirming the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, 68 D.L.R. 106, the appeal would not, I think, present any serious difficulty. It is there held that the word "royalties" in s. 109 of the B.N.A. Act, 1867, is not limited in its scope to the words preceding it, "lands, mines, minerals," but must be construed in its natural sense as the equivalent in English of "jura regalia," and therefore included what were, upon the admission of both the parties to the litigation, bona vacantia. Their Lordships, however, declined to express an opinion as to whether the words "belonging to" in s. 109 mean "already in fact appropriated," or only "such as the Province was entitled to appropriate." They thought it, they said, [1923] 4 D.L.R., at p. 695, "sufficient to observe that this question, which is substantially one of fact, has not been established in favour of the Dominion in the sense of the argument advanced on its behalf, and that the point must be taken to have failed for the purpose of the present appeal."

Their Lordships were also careful to confine the expression of
